African American Museum of Bucks County Breaks Ground

The new African American Museum of Bucks County broke ground on November 23 with great enthusiasm and community spirit. Pitching in with shovels (l. to r., first image) are Larry Paoletta, Jr., general manager of L. J. Paoletta Construction; Sean R. Torpey, PE, from Pennoni; Bernard Griggs, Jr., project and diversity officer for Bucks County; Frank Mallas, Joshua Thomas, and Emanuel Kelly, FAIA, representing KMA, the architect of record on the project; and Ross Stuart, PE, from Pennoni.
