African American Museum of Bucks County in the News

Progress on readying a permanent home for the currently mobile African American Museum of Bucks County was reported in two publications on June 4: Hidden City Philadelphia and the Lower Bucks Times. Renovations to the historic farmhouse at 300-year-old Boone Farm are underway, with completion anticipated in 2025.

As architect of record, KMA's work involved restoration design of the building's exterior walls and roof to weatherize and stabilize the structure and reduce energy consumption, all while preserving the historic aspects of the building along with team members Pennoni and Voith & Mactavish Architects LLP. We're now working on interior fit-out and exhibit design, the latter provided by Cloud Gehshan Design.
